“When I decided to sell my company, Dominion Partners came highly recommended to me. Dominion had recently closed another transaction in the mechanical contracting industry and knew the market well. They worked quickly to position my business for sale and maintained complete confidentiality until I was comfortable informing my management team. Dominion presented a variety of alternatives, and EMCOR seems to be a perfect partner for R.S. Harritan & Co. Dominion managed the process in a highly professional manner. Issues that potentially could have prevented this transaction were addressed by Dominion in a way that effectively met the needs of all parties. I am excited about the future of my Company with EMCOR and highly recommend Dominion Partners to any business owner considering strategic alternatives.”
